

The following academic institutions are partnering with JumpStart to expose you to their MBA programs.

Since 2004, JumpStart has partnered with the Financial Services Industry to educate diverse talent about career options

JumpStart has partnered with top corporate partners specific to careers in marketing and brand management

Since 2004, JumpStart has partnered with the Consulting Industry to educate diverse talent about career options

* Reflects Corporate Partner participants in previous or upcoming career Diversity Forums.

ELIGIBILITY AND KEY DATES:

- The 3rd annual JumpStart P2MBA (Path to MBA) Diversity Forum will be held Sunday, June 3rd and Monday, June 4th.
- The Forum will be hosted by Duke University's Fuqua School of Business located in Durham, NC.
- The P2MBA Network is for those planning to apply to business school in the upcoming admission cycles over the next two years.
- To join the P2MBA Network and be considered for the Diversity Forum, become a member and apply at www.jumpstartadvisorygroup.com.

KEY NETWORK BENEFITS:

- At the P2MBA Diversity Forum meet MBA program admission and career services representatives from Duke Fuqua, Chicago Booth, MIT Sloan, Stanford, Wharton, Harvard, Columbia, Georgetown, Johns Hopkins, Yale, Kellogg, Purdue, and GMAC.
- Gain insight into the admissions process, life as an MBA student, and careers after graduation.
- Expand your professional network to include current MBA students, professionals with an MBA, and many other individuals who can influence your career.
- Participate in our virtual b-school preparation series including topics such as What is the Value of an MBA, Determining if it is Right For You, Developing a Game Plan, Telling Your Story, How to Fund the MBA, GMAT Guidance, and Life After B-School.